APH Services for Families

Having a child who is visually impaired or blind may be a challenging and life-changing experience; however, you're not alone! There are dozens of agencies in your state and across the country to help you provide your child with the best education and rehabilitation services possible.

This section lists services provided by the American Printing House for the Blind (APH). A Resources for Families appendix in the rear of the catalog lists other agencies that may be helpful to you.

Services for Families from APH

The American Printing House for the Blind is committed to providing quality services for the families of children with visual impairments. This catalog, designed specifically for families, is one of those services. APH's Department of Research partners with universities and other organizations to assure that the products we create are appropriate and beneficial for your child.

Early Childhood

APH's employees are dedicated to services for early childhood and families. The "Babies Count: National Registry for Children with Visual Impairment from Birth to Three Years" is coordinated by the Early Childhood Project Leader. Babies Count identifies children across the country, birth to three, who are blind and visually impaired. Information collected through this project guides our development of products and services for young children, as well as identifies trends and needs for the future. For more information about Babies Count, contact Burt Boyer at APH by calling 800-223-1839 or emailing him at bboyer@aph.org.

Training Events Across the U.S.

APH is proud to sponsor a series of National Instructional Partnerships workshops and training events around the country each year. These workshops focus on curriculum areas and topics vital to the education of children who are blind and visually impaired. Nationally known experts in the field of education and rehabilitation partner with APH staff to provide the expertise and knowledge that make these events powerful learning experiences. We invite and encourage parents to attend any of these events that are relevant for their children. Information about National Instructional Partnerships events can be found on the APH web site at www.aph.org, or by contacting the Field Services Department by calling 800-223-1839.

APH also maintains the accessible Fred's Head Database. Fred's Head is a source of tips and techniques for and by blind or visually impaired individuals. This free-of-charge database includes records about technology, recreation, daily living skills, orientation & mobility, and much more. Fred's Head also includes information on finding adaptive products and provides links to interesting web sites. If you have a question about how to accomplish a task, try looking in Fred's Head at www.aph.org, and click the Fred's Head link. Fred's Head is for students as well as adults.

What Is the Federal Quota Program?

The federal Act to Promote the Education of the Blind was enacted by Congress in 1879 as a means for providing accessible educational materials to eligible students who meet the definition of blindness. Federal funds are available to organizations in each state to provide materials for students working at less than college level. These organizations may be state departments of education, or residential schools or other agencies for the blind.

Who Is Eligible?

In order for students to be eligible for registration in the Program, they MUST meet the following requirements.

- meet the definition of blindness
  - “central visual acuity of 20/200 or less in the better eye with correcting glasses or a peripheral field so contracted that the widest diameter of such field subtends an angular distance no greater than 20 degrees”
- “be enrolled in a formally organized public or private, nonprofit educational program of less than college level”
- be enrolled with the registering school or agency on the first Monday in January

There is no chronological age limit for eligibility. Adults to be registered must be receiving a minimum of 20 hours per week of instruction in an educational program.

How Does the Quota Program Work?

As part of the annual budget process, Congress allots an amount to the Federal Quota Program. A national census taken each January determines the number of students eligible to receive Quota materials. The federal money is then divided among the participating schools and agencies, based on the number of qualifying students registered. The money does not go to the students themselves, but is credited to Federal Quota accounts administered by APH and its Ex Officio Trustees throughout the country. By combining these funds and maintaining libraries and materials centers for items that can be used multiple times, the Ex Officio Trustees are able to use these funds efficiently.

Who Are the Ex Officio Trustees?

For each residential school for the blind, state department of education, or agency for the blind participating in the Program, an Ex Officio Trustee of APH must be designated, who is then entrusted with Quota administration within his or her system.

Is My Child Registered?

There are several ways to find out if your child is registered:

- Ask at your Individualized Educational Program (IEP) or Individualized Family Services Plan (IFSP) meeting. Your service provider should be aware that Federal Quota funds are available, and can tell you if your child qualifies.
- Contact the state department of education (if your child attends a public or private school) or the state residential school for the blind.
- Contact your Ex Officio Trustee for more information. To learn the name of the Ex Officio Trustee serving your organization, check the APH web site at www.aph.org/fedquotpgm/trustees.html and then click on your state, or contact the APH Field Services Department at 800-223-1839, extension 257.

Audio Feedback Products From APH!

Talking Calculator

This talking calculator provides audio feedback to a user, along with an oversized LCD display. This desktop model has the standard operations of addition, subtraction, multiplication, and division. In addition, it has a memory function. A "repeat" key will replay the last audio result. Audio is adjustable based on the user's need:

- By unit or by digit.
- Two volume levels.
- Result only or all keys pressed.

You can find all three products on page 48 inside!

EZ Fill

EZ Fill is a device that aids in filling containers, such as a glass or cup. The aid hangs on the edge of the container, and when liquid fills to about one inch from the top, the device produces a signal, alerting the user.

Talking Thermometer

The Talking Thermometer's pleasant human voice automatically reports the user's measured temperature, along with a standard-sized LCD readout.

Features include:

- "Talking" button to report temperature at any time
- Periodic "beep" signal during measurement as a reminder
- Same accuracy as conventional non-talking digital clinical thermometer
- Memory of last measured temperature
- Fast response time
- Auto power-off after eight minutes
- Battery included
